

STEVE WILDE – BIO/CV

To say I am self taught would be to imply that I've learned something. I still am...

I have been painting for 5 years; a late starter with a lot to learn, so I dived in the deep end and started exhibiting sooner than I was comfortable with. I had sporadically shown digital works and photography in the past but really started showing my painting in earnest in 2019. Then came the 2 year lull of Covid and the restrictions of exhibiting online, but it gave me a lot of time to experiment and hopefully I'm now getting nearer to what I want to produce.

I am based in London and for my sins I have previously worked in IT, book and record shops, lithographic printing and spot welding!
